AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF HYDROLOGY CORPORATE / INSTITUTION / AFFILIATE MEMBERSHIP INFORMATION

Organizations interested in becoming Corporate or Institutional Members of AIH can meet the requirements by giving satisfactory evidence of their professional qualifications, certifying that at least one senior member is a certified Professional Hydrologist, Hydrologist – Ground Water, Hydrologist – Water Quality, or Hydrogeologist in AIH and pledge to uphold the Code of Ethics and the Constitution of the American Institute of Hydrology. Organizations that meet the above requirements but do not employ a member of AIH can become an Affiliate Member. Affiliate members are commonly Product Vendors or providing Support services to hydrologists.

The purpose of AIH is to enhance and strengthen the standing of hydrology as a science and a profession by:

- Establishing standards and procedures to certify individuals qualified in hydrology
- Establishing and maintaining ethical standards to protect the public from irresponsible work
- Providing education and training in hydrology
- Providing the public and government advice and guidance concerning hydrologic activities.

The benefits of being a Corporate/Institutional Member of AIH include:

- Recognition of professional competence in hydrology and hydrogeology
- Free listing in the AIH Registry of Professionals and a copy of the Registry
- Free copy of the newsletter, AIH Bulletin
- Free copy of the journal, Hydrological Science & Technology
- Reduced fees for advertising in the newsletter and Registry of Professionals
- Organizational profile printed biannually in the newsletter
- Discount on AIH publications
- Reduced rates for exhibiting and/or sponsorships at AIH meeting
